

PROFESSIONAL DIPLOMA IN HOUSING MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATE IN PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Introduction

Since 1968, we have been Hong Kong's leading provider of professional training in housing management. To date, about 6268 students have successfully completed the three-year Professional Diploma in Housing Management programme (formerly known as Diploma in Housing Management), which receives full recognition from the Hong Kong Institute of Housing and the Chartered Institute of Housing in the U.K. Starting from September 2012, the Professional Diploma programme has been recalibrated to QF Level 5.

In order to cater for the changing needs of society, we have been revising our curriculum and at the same time adopting a block building approach in providing housing management programmes. This is evidenced by the introduction, in September 2004, of the Certificate in Property Management. The programme by itself is a self-contained programme, but it also serves as an access to the Professional Diploma in Housing Management.

Holders of the Certificate in Property Management (formerly known as Advanced Certificate in Property Management), who have achieved good academic results, may be allowed direct entry to the Year 1 of the Professional Diploma in Housing Management programme.

To make housing education more accessible, no Entrance Test is set for the graduates of the Certificate in Property Management. We hope that this programme will provide more education opportunities to young practitioners in the housing field.

As the number of places in each programme is limited, selection is based on individual's academic merit.

CERTIFICATE IN PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

(formerly known as Advanced Certificate in Property Management)

Aims of the Programme

This programme aims to provide learners with a wide range of conceptual and practical knowledge and skills necessary in today's property management environments to meet their individual needs for career development as well as pursuit of higher-level professional housing education.

By the end of the programme, students will be able to

- play their appropriate job roles as frontline property management practitioners;
- employ lawful and proper standard of work behaviours in performing their day-to-day property management duties at the supervisory level;
- communicate effectively with clients;
- assist in successfully balancing residents / owners' demand with the requirements of sound property management practices; and
- reach an adequate understanding of the subject upon which their future study in the Professional Diploma in Housing Management programme should be based.

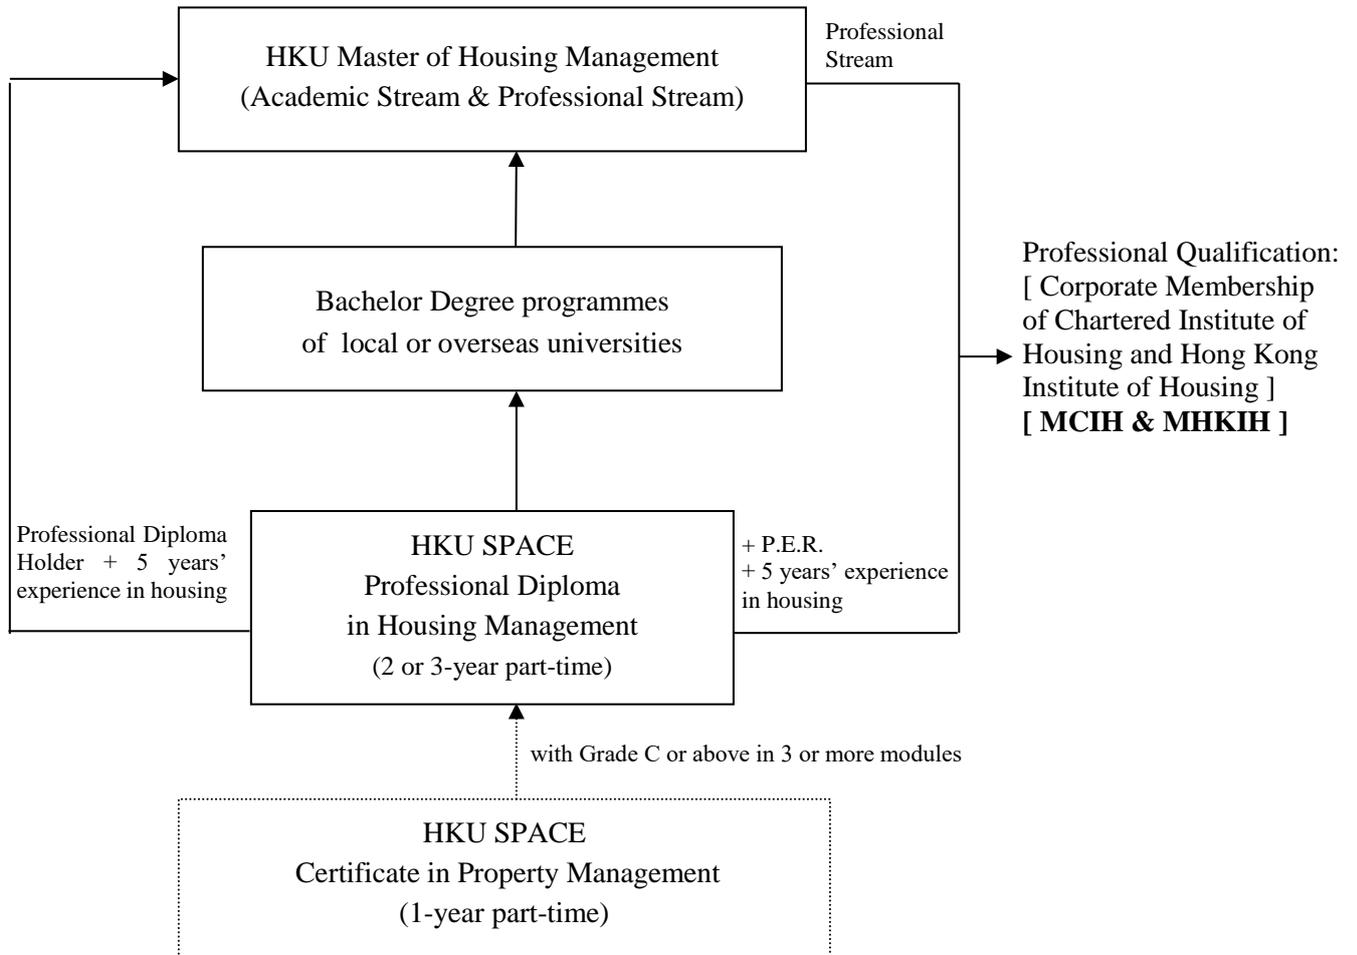

Awards and Articulation
